WHAT We Do

Attorneys in the Office of Revisor of Statutes provide legal services to the members of the Kansas Legislature and legislative committees. Each attorney is a subject matter expert and at least one attorney staffs every legislative committee. In addition, our attorneys perform legal research at the request of the legislator and upon a variety of public policy topics.

DURING the SESSION

During the legislative session, revisors are responsible for drafting bills, resolutions, committee amendments, floor amendments, committee reports and conference committee reports for the Kansas Legislature. Each legislative committee is staffed by at least one revisor who is responsible for briefing bills, responding to legal questions from legislators and advising the committee on proper parliamentary procedure.

DURING the INTERIM

During the interim, the office compiles, prepares, edits and publishes the Kansas Statutes Annotated and supplements. Revisors undertake in-depth legal research and also staff interim legislative committees. Revisors also answer statutory questions from the public.
